

VANTRO

Installer How-To Guide

Get started with Vantro in 5 minutes

Before you start

You need:

- An iPhone or Android phone.
- Your installer PIN (provided by your employer).
- Mobile data or Wi-Fi when on site.
- The Vantro app installed from the App Store or Google Play (search "Vantro").

If you don't have a PIN yet, ask your employer.

Step 1 — Open the app and sign in Open Vantro on your phone. Enter your installer PIN on the keypad. Tap the sign-in button.

The app will ask you to allow Location Access. Choose "Allow While Using App" or "Always Allow" (your employer will guide you on which to choose). This is required so the app can confirm you're at the right job site when you sign in to a shift.

You will also be asked to allow Notifications. Choose Allow — the app uses these for sign-in and sign-out reminders only. There are no marketing notifications.

Step 2 — See your jobs

Once signed in, you'll see a list of jobs you've been assigned. Tap any job to open it. For each job you'll see:

- The job name and address.
- Any checklists your employer has attached to that job.
- A Sign in button — tap when you arrive on site.

Step 3 — Sign in to a job

When you arrive on site, tap Sign in. The app will check your GPS location against the job site address. If you're within range (your employer sets the distance), you'll be signed in.

If the app says you're not in range, double-check you're at the correct address. If you're definitely at the right place but the GPS is off, ask your employer to check the job's location settings.

Step 4 — Do your work

Once signed in, the app records your sign-in time and GPS location, then sends periodic location pings to confirm you're on site (see the GPS Tracking Explainer for full details). You can use the app to:

- Tick off checklist items as you complete them.
- Add a diary entry — "finished the main install, customer happy, going for lunch". You can type, or use voice-to-text. AI will summarise this for your audit pack.
- Log a defect if something is wrong — "missing flashing kit, can't finish today". Mark it as Blocker, Issue, or Note depending on severity. Take a photo if relevant.
- Snap a receipt — for fuel, materials, parking. Tap the receipt button, take a photo, the app reads the total automatically.

Step 5 — Sign out

When you've finished the job, tap Sign out. The app will record your sign-out time and stop tracking your location.

If you forget to sign out, the system will close your shift automatically 2 hours after your scheduled finish time. You'll be flagged for your employer's review, but nothing is sent to your phone.

If something goes wrong

I can't sign in — "out of range"

Check you're at the right address. If you are, ask your employer to check the job's GPS coordinates.

The app won't open

Close it fully (swipe up from the bottom of your screen and swipe Vantro off the top). Reopen it. If it still won't open, restart your phone. If it still won't open after that, tell your employer.

My phone died and I lost a defect I was writing

Defects are saved as you type. When you reopen the app, look for a draft in the Defects section.

I uploaded the wrong photo / receipt

Tell your employer. They can delete or replace it from the admin panel.

I want to see my own data

Tap your name (or Me) on the bottom of the app. You'll see your shift history, GPS pings, and any diary entries you've submitted.

What the app does NOT do

To be clear about what's not happening:

- The app does not track you outside your working hours.
- The app does not access your contacts, messages, photos, or other apps.
- The app does not send you marketing notifications.
- The app does not share your data with anyone outside your employer's company without legal cause.

Getting help

First port of call: your employer or office manager. They have admin access and can fix most issues.

If something is genuinely broken with the app itself, email aileen@applyscale8.com.
